TALK: FOOD SECURITY
A series of free talks looking at UK and global issues is being held at Bishop's Stortford College. The Spring Ferguson Lectures has Looking to the Future as this year’s theme. Speakers include Tim Wheeler, professor of crop science at the University of Reading and director of science and innovation at the Natural Environment Research Council who will discuss Food Security, Resource Management and Growing Populations on April 24. To book, go to bishopsstortfordcollege.org.